

FESTIVAL RESPECT CODE:

We want everyone (all visitors, employees, artists and exhibitors) to have a good time at our festival.

Please show respect and decency to all visitors and staff, especially to the cosplayers. If someone crosses your boundaries, you feel harassed or discriminated against or you have observed inappropriate behaviour, you can always report it to our security staff, the bar team, the organization team or our volunteers. We are here to help!

PLEASE NOTE THE FOLLOWING RULES:

- Photos of people may only be taken with their consent.
- Don't take pictures of people who are eating, drinking or resting without asking permission.
- Cosplayers and artists have worked many hours on their costumes and art– be respectful and careful!
- Do not hug people or touch their costumes without asking first.
- No means no: respect the personal boundaries of other people - regardless of the context.

We respect all peaceful people, no matter their religion, sexual orientation or lifestyle. We do not tolerate discrimination of any kind and expect respectful interaction with each other. Any case of (sexual) harassment will be punished with immediate exclusion of the event and a potential report to the police.
